Where Rickard Began His Career

The boxing world which was his empire mourns Tex Rickard, dead following an operation for appendicitis in Miami Beach, Fla. The above exclusive photo shows the old Northern Saloon and gambling hall in Goldfield, Nev., where Rickard started his career as a promoter of big fights. It was in window of bank shown in picture that he piled $30,000 in shining gold pieces to convince a doubting world that he could pay off Joe Gans and Battling Nelson if they would settle their championship dispute in Goldfield. Inset, a rare old daguerreotype showing Rickard as he appeared in his prospecting days.

Complimenting Miss Lucia Jenner, a bride-elect of the coming spring, her sister, Mrs. Fred M. Ervin entertained fifteen guests at her home on Leaman St., Thursday night.

Miss Jenner was instructed to remove the hearts, releasing the ribbons and revealing the gifts.

Three contests entertained the guests, the prizes being presented to Miss Jenner, Miss Roberta Shaw, Mrs. Olive Williamson, and Miss Violet Lane. The guests enjoyed sherbet, cake, coffee, and candy, seated before the cheerful log fire in the living room.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED AT "SHOWER"

Complimenting Miss Lucia Jenner, a bride-elect of the coming spring, her sister, Mrs. Fred M. Ervin entertained fifteen guests at her home on Leaman St., Thursday night.

Nearness of Valentine Day was suggested in the decorations, and gifts with which Miss Jenner was "showered" were concealed beneath a canopy of red and white ribbons which festooned the central light in the dining room, to the table, where the ends were fastened beneath paper hearts. Miss Jenner was instructed to remove the hearts, releasing the ribbons and revealing the gifts.

Three contests entertained the guests, the prizes being presented to Miss Jenner, Miss Roberta Shaw, Mrs. Olive Williamson, and Miss Violet Lane. The guests enjoyed sherbet, cake, coffee, and candy, seated before the cheerful fire in the living room.

This is a hard-water country

SOAP and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Melo and no scum forms.

Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ the amount ordinarily used. Melo only costs 10 cents a can. You can afford to buy 5 cans and keep one in the kitchen, one in the laundry, and one in the bathroom. Get it at your grocer's.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

JOY AND REJOICING—Thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.—Jeremiah 15:16.

ADVANTAGE IN CHURCH MERGERS

A definite agreement for the union of the Presbyterian church in the United States and the Methodist Episcopal church in America has been reached at a conference of commissioned representatives of these two bodies now in session at Pittsburgh. This action is the issue of the negotiations begun last year between the Methodist conference at Kansas City and the Presbyterian general assembly at Tulsa. A multitude of administrative details remains to be worked out; but with the doctrinal barrier surmounted, agreement on purely mundane points should not be over-difficult. The two churches now have a membership of approximately 6,000,000. The united church will be numerically the second largest religious body in this country.

Church mergers reflect the spirit of the times. They represent retrenchment and efficiency. There has been over-expansion in the church field, with consequent waste and overlapping of efforts. Some of our churches are hard put to finance their far-flung establishments. While there was an increase in membership in both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches between 1916 and 1926 there was a noticeable loss in the number of churches. The union of the two organizations will enable the resultant church to eliminate duplication and concentrate its resources and efforts.

The union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches in Canada, which was effected about five years ago, was at first bitterly opposed by a minority; but it appears to have worked out to general satisfaction. One thing it proved was that the chief difference between the Methodist and Presbyterian churches had been administrative rather doctrinal. The Methodists stood for centralized authority, while the authority in the Presbyterian church was dispersed and democratic. This difference has been composed.

The essentials of Christianity have suffered by the division and subdivision of Christians into so many unnecessary sects.

"SCOTLAND YARD" FOR U. S.

Governor Roosevelt of New York has opened up a question, which is of immediate importance all over the country, by asking the crime commission of the Empire state to consider a plan for the formation of a state bureau of expert detectives to be organized as Scotland Yard is organized in Great Britain.

The governor does not attempt to present a precise plan. Just how an organization such as he suggests ought to be governed in order to cope best with local crime conditions, and what ought to be the exact scope of the authority of its members as police officers, are matters he leaves to the decision of the crime commission. But he does insist that something should be done to meet the new situation in the country which makes it impossible for local authorities in small communities and country places to contend against criminal depredations. He says there must be an answer to the defiance of motorized, professional crime.

Sooner or later, the states will have to develop corps of detectives, whose members can operate on call anywhere within the boundaries of their respective commonwealths. That is almost self-evident, and the sooner the states organize such bodies the better for the public peace, health and safety.

Your BROADWAY And Mine

NEW YORK.—Robert Benchley, Lewis ... Ralph Irons is a clown, Life's dramatic critic and Olive Schreiner, and Nancy Boyd is Edna St. Vincent Millay.

TRICK

Not a few of the Broadway girls are getting away with a new form of two-timing. That, those gals who have did phones in their homes are practicing the new stunt. When they want to dodge the regular boy friend and go whoopeeing with another, they leave the phone receiver off the hook.

Thus should the regular b. t. happen to call her, he gets a "busy" signal. And no matter how long he tries to get a response, she may always answer: "You got a busy signal didn't you? Well, I was in, and them's those!"

INCIDENTALLY

Perhaps the lassies who are furious with us for exposing the gals will be glad to learn that another of their stunts is a waste of time and dangerous. Never place the mouthpiece of the telephone against your chest or abdomen when trying to keep the boy friend from hearing you say to your other guest: "Gosh! It's Harry! I told him I was going to Philly! What'll I say?"

Because he can hear every word, anyway, the voice clearly penetrating through the body.

VERY GOOD, EDDIE!

Eddie Cantor, star of "Whoopie," says that his daughters are so loyal to him that they insist on saying "I Saw Down and Go Whoopie."

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

ANTS AND HUMANS

The human being appears to be behind in his evolution. He comes along but slowly. Bees and ants have gone further. Bees and ants have reached such a stage of perfection in their method of living that they are practically standardized. The human being is not so. He is still struggling along, stopping and starting, making many errors, trying to improve his methods. That's what makes the world so interesting. When evolution is completed—if such an idea is thinkable—the world will be a dull place. There will be no adventure.

SCIENCE AND ART

It has been said that science is information about materials; art and literature are information about people. True education implies much familiarity with both materials and people. The most learned man in the laboratory, no matter how much he knows about chemicals, is not truly educated if he is uninterested in the reactions of the human being.

THE KINDERGARTEN

Kettering, genius of the General Motors, says we are just in the kindergarten of scientific invention. There was a man about 1849 who wanted to abolish the patent office, saying its work was done. Wonder what he would say today. No use asking what he would think—for evidently he didn't think.

A DEFINITION

Speaking of education, here is a definition to pass on from Dr. Henry M. Winston, a college president. He says: "A few fundamentals mastered, a memory disciplined to retentiveness, a brain trained by an inquiring spirit, a character ennobled by Christian principles—these are the essentials of modern education."

AS TO AMERICANIZATION

Those interested in Americanization work in the schools or elsewhere really ought to remember that the "foreigners" who have come to live among us come mostly from countries older than our own and equally civilized.

Their ideas are not always inferior—perhaps not even equal.

We think aliens—new citizens—have much to learn from us. We also have much to learn from them. The most valuable kind of Americanization work is partly a co-operative process.

RELIEF EXPECTED FOR PHILIPPINE TYPHOON SUFFERERS

By HENRY L. STIMSON
Governor General, Philippines

Henry L. Stimson was born at New York City, Sept. 21, 1867. He is a graduate of Yale University and Harvard Law School, being admitted to the bar in 1891. He joined a New York law firm in 1893. From 1906 to 1909 he was United States attorney general of the southern district of New York. He was a Republican candidate for governor in 1910 and served as secretary of war in the cabinet of President Taft from 1911 to 1913. In 1927 he was the special representative of the president in Nicaragua and later that year was named governor general of the Philippines. He served with the American Auxiliary Forces in France in 1917 and 1918. His home is in New York City.

I have issued a call for a special session of the Philippine legislature to meet February 7 and remain in session until February 3, inclusive. The purpose of the call was tated as follows:

"For the purpose of considering an appropriation for the relief and rehabilitation of provinces recently damaged by storm and disease and of the inhabitants of said provinces; for the purpose of choosing resident commissioners to the United States; and for the purpose of considering such other measures as may be presented to it by the governor general."

The principal subject-making necessary the meeting was an appropriation for relief of sufferers from the typhoon in December. Reports from the typhoon districts not only make no change in my original anticipation that relief would be needed but confirm it.

In addition to the matters stated in my proclamation I had originally intended to bring before the legislature the subject of amendments to the banking law which are required in order to perfect the system of bank examination now prevailing here and to institute a more modern and efficient system of examination to insure the safety and soundness of the banks, both native and foreign, which are doing business here.

After consultation with the leaders of the legislature, fear was expressed that the time available at the special session for discussion of such amendments would be insufficient to insure the passage of what it would be wiser to leave their enactment to the regular session which meets next July.

VISITING DAY IN THE VIOLENT WARD

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MME. HELENA RUBINSTEIN

Fashion has never been so generous in allowing a woman to suit her dress to her personality, and so in necklines that thing which is becoming is the thing which is fashionable.

Study the shape of your face and neck before you decide on your neckline. If your face is round, the square or pointed type of neck will be becoming; if your face is long, a round or oval shape will be found most becoming; if your face is square and heavy the neckline should be broader than the facial width.

The stout woman with the round face should never use a round neck, as this gives a monotonous series of circles, but should affect, instead, a long oval or square-cut neck. Standing collars in the back, which roll softly open to a point at the bust line, are very flattering. High choker collars are not good, as they shorten a neck which is, in all probability, already too short, and give an uncomfortable, cramped look to the face. This woman may use long, straight panels of light color in dark dresses, as well as long, straight collars, ending just below the bust line. Her sash and pendants should fall almost to her waist, or even below. If the face is broad, the neckline should always be wider than the face, to give a more delicate effect.

Study your neckline well. Many women fail to get the most out of a frock, because they fail to do this; other women have found that the proper consideration of this point has absolutely "made" a garment.

The stout woman with the round face should never use a round neck, as this gives a monotonous series of circles, but should affect, instead, a long oval or square-cut neck.

Take it from me, Senator Shipstead straightened up abruptly in his office chair at the question. His nose eyes suddenly flamed.

"Of course it is," he said, emphatically.

Take it from me, Senator Shipstead can imagine no such thing as a dictatorship "minus" trying.

"They call it 'Party.'

"They are investing 'Party' with all the old kingly attributes."

"The party attains power and governs by divine right. The party can do no wrong. The party is perfect. And absolute."

Nevertheless, our returning tourists surely do bring back rosy-colored reports from the home of Mussolini-ism, Italy.

"Trains on time!" — according to these globe-trotters. Crime suppressed! Plenty of work for everybody!

"Is justice on time?" demanded the senator.

"Has anything been suppressed besides crime?" Have free speech and a free press been suppressed? — for instance.

"Have the workers their rights?" — as well as employment rights. Shipstead, alone, acknowledges no party allegiance whatever.

True, he does go down in the record as a Farmer-Laborite.

However, that is merely a different name for independence. It implies no particular political group. Incidentally, it is a necessary device to get the senator onto the official ballot on election day.

"The Declaration of American Independence," continued the Minnesotan, "is history's greatest political document. It surpasses anything ever written before it; anything ever written since that declaration was written."

"The men of '76 recognized many old errors the people had fallen into."

"They saw that it was not true a king could do no wrong. They saw that many a king was a graftor and a rascal. They saw that the doctrine of the divine right of kings was ridiculous."

"All those outworn theories went to the garbage heap, in the Declaration of Independence."

"Today," went on the senator, gloomily, "the American people have gone back to the garbage heap of the past and are digging out their old kingling effigy."

"They are investing 'Party' with all the old kingly attributes."

"The party attains power and governs by divine right. The party can do no wrong. The party is perfect. And absolute."

Nevertheless, our returning tourists surely do bring back rosy-colored reports from the home of Mussolini-ism, Italy.

"Trains on time!" — according to these globe-trotters. Crime suppressed! Plenty of work for everybody!

"Is justice on time?" demanded the senator.

"Has anything been suppressed besides crime?" Have free speech and a free press been suppressed? — for instance.

"Have the workers their rights?" — as well as employment rights. Shipstead, alone, acknowledges no party allegiance whatever.

True, he does go down in the record as a Farmer-Laborite.

However, that is merely a different name for independence. It implies no particular political group. Incidentally, it is a necessary device to get the senator onto the official ballot on election day.

"The Declaration of American Independence," continued the Minnesotan, "is history's greatest political document. It surpasses anything ever written before it; anything ever written since that declaration was written."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

JOY AND REJOICING—Thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O Lord God of hosts.—Jeremiah 15:16.

ADVANTAGE IN CHURCH MERGERS

A definite agreement for the union of the Presbyterian church in the United States and the Methodist Episcopal church in America has been reached at a conference of commissioned representatives of these two bodies now in session at Pittsburgh. This action is the issue of the negotiations begun last year between the Methodist conference at Kansas City and the Presbyterian general assembly at Tulsa. A multitude of administrative details remains to be worked out; but with the doctrinal barrier surmounted, agreement on purely mundane points should not be over-difficult. The two churches now have a membership of approximately 6,000,000. The United church will be numerically the second largest religious body in this country.

Church mergers reflect the spirit of the times. They represent retrenchment and efficiency. There has been over-expansion in the church field, with consequent waste and overlapping of efforts. Some of our churches are hard put to finance their far-flung establishments. While there was an increase in membership in both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches between 1916 and 1926 there was a noticeable loss in the number of churches. The union of the two organizations will enable the resultant church to eliminate duplication and concentrate its resources and efforts.

The union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches in Canada, which was effected about five years ago, was at first bitterly opposed by a minority; but it appears to have worked out to general satisfaction. One thing it proved was that the chief difference between the Methodist and Presbyterian churches had been administrative rather doctrinal. The Methodists stood for centralized authority, while the authority in the Presbyterian church was dispersed and democratic. This difference has been composed.

The essentials of Christianity have suffered by the division and subdivision of Christians into so many unnecessary sects.

"SCOTLAND YARD" FOR U. S.

Governor Roosevelt of New York has opened up a question, which is of immediate importance all over the country, by asking the crime commission of the Empire state to consider a plan for the formation of a state bureau of expert detectives to be organized as Scotland Yard is organized in Great Britain.

The governor does not attempt to present a precise plan. Just how an organization such as he suggests ought to be governed in order to cope best with local crime conditions, and what ought to be the exact scope of the authority of its members as police officers, are matters he leaves to the decision of the crime commission. But he does insist that something should be done to meet the new situation in the country which makes it impossible for local authorities in small communities and country places to contend against criminal depredations. He says there must be an answer to the defiance of motorized, professional crime.

Sooner or later, the states will have to develop corps of detectives, whose members can operate on call anywhere within the boundaries of their respective commonwealths. That is almost self-evident, and the sooner the states organize such bodies the better for the public peace, health and safety.

NEW YORK—Robert Benchley, Life's dramatic critic and clown, was with a friend who stopped before a store window to admire some antique rugs.

The Way of the World

BY GROVE PATTERSON

ANTS AND HUMANS

The human being appears to be behind in his evolution. He comes along but slowly. Bees and ants have gone further. Bees and ants have reached such a stage of perfection in their method of living that they are practically standardized. The human being is not so. He is still struggling along, stopping and starting, making many errors, trying to improve his methods. That's what makes the world so interesting. When evolution is completed—if such an idea is thinkable—the world will be a dull place. There will be no adventure.

SCIENCE AND ART

It has been said that science is information about materials; art and literature are information about people. True education implies much familiarity with both materials and people. The most learned man in the laboratory, no matter how much he knows about chemicals, is not truly educated if he is unmindful of the reactions of the human being.

THE KINDERGARTEN

Kettering genius of the General Motors says we are just in the kindergarten of scientific invention. There was a man about 1840 who wanted to abolish the patent office, saying its work was done. Wonder what he would say today. No use asking what he would think for evidently he didn't think.

A DEFINITION

Speaking of education, here is a definition to pass on from Dr. Henry M. Winston, a college president. He says: "A few fundamentals mastered, a memory disciplined to retentiveness, a brain trained by an inquiring spirit, a character ennobled by Christian principles—these are the essentials of modern education."

AS TO AMERICANIZATION

Those interested in Americanization work in the schools or elsewhere really ought to remember that the "foreigners" who have come to live among us come mostly from countries older than our own and equally civilized.

Their ideas are frequently different. Their ideas are not always inferior—perhaps not even usually. We think aliens—new citizens—have much to learn from us. We also have much to learn from them. The most valuable kind of Americanization work is partly a co-operative process.

Study the shape of your face and neck before you decide on your neckline. If your face is round, the square or pointed type of neck will be becoming; if your face is long, a round or oval shape will be found most becoming; if your face is square and heavy the neckline should be broader than the facial width.

The stout woman with the round face should never use a round neck, as this gives a monotonous series of circles, but should affect, instead, a long oval or square-cut neck.

Standing collars in the back, which roll softly open to a point at the bust-line, are very flattering. High choker collars are not good, as they shorten a neck which is, in all probability, already too short, and give an uncomfortable, cramped look to the face. This woman may use long, straight collars, as well as long, straight sleeves, ending just below the bust-line. Her sautoirs and pendants should fall almost to her waist, or even below. If the face is broad, the neckline should always be wider than the face, to give a more delicate effect.

Study your neckline well.

Many women fail to get the most out of a frock, because they fail to do this; other women have found that the proper consideration of this point has absolutely "made" a garment.

The neckline should complement the shape of face, and so the tall, thin woman will choose a round line, reasonably low in the neck, or one which is softly oval.

If her neck be bony, however, she will bring the line nearer to the base of the throat to cover this defect, and let it come to a round or oval shape in the front. Large revers of the Director's order, as well as beads and necklaces are concerned, these should be of the choker or comparatively short variety.

POST-SEASON GAME BOOKED FOR DAYTON FLOOR TOURNEY WEEK

Will Give Fast Stepping Xenia Five Chance To Stop Undefeated State Champs; Student Body Hopeful

Xenia versus Stivers.

Xenia Central High School's "Buccaneers" will face Stivers High School of Dayton, 1927-28 state basketball champions and possessing again this season a team declared to be stronger than last year's edition, at the Montgomery County Fairground Coliseum in Dayton Tuesday night, February 26.

Stivers, with an impressive record of fifteen straight victories, has little to gain by defeating Xenia, while the Bucs have nothing to lose, but anything can happen in basketball and Xenia may spring a surprise against this team which has averaged better than fifty points per game.

Indirect credit for arranging the game may be given Glenn McFadden, one of Xenia's most enthusiastic Buccaneer fans, "Micky" wrote to a Dayton newspaper that Stivers would not have to look further than sixteen miles away from Dayton to find its superior in basketball. A Dayton sport scribe showed the article to Stivers' faculty manager and the faculty manager immediately opened negotiations with Coach "Pinky" Wilson. The date was definitely decided upon Thursday afternoon. Everything has been arranged except the officials for the contest. Coach Wilson has put his O. K. on a list of referees from which the official will be selected. ***

Basketball in the Buckeye Conference affords some of the most hard-fought competition to be found in an inter-collegiate league. Of the first sixteen games played by Buckeye teams this season, seven were decided by a margin of not more than two points.

Cincinnati lost to Wesleyan by two points and won from Ohio and Denison by the same margin. Wittenberg has lost to Denison once by two points and once by a single tally. The Luthers are in turn defeated by Ohio Wesleyan by two points. The Battling Bishops nosed out Miami by one point at Oxford. ***

Wittenberg is the overtime champion of the conference this year. Only three games have gone into an overtime session and the Luthers have been in the thick of each of them. Wittenberg defeated Cincinnati and Ohio Wesleyan in extra-period contests and lost to Denison in a similar struggle. ***

Is the second official worth his salt at a basketball game? That question is being debated by coaches and fans. Spectators frequently object that with two officials trying to earn their fees there is too much whistle blowing with the result that play is slowed down. Certain it is that the idea of a third official meets with little enthusiasm among fans and teams.

Bobby Garcia, Aztec Indian featherweight fighter, who was suspended in Dayton by the former Moromey County Boxing Commission when he ran out of a fight with Eddie Anderson, due to illness, has been re-instated by the newly-appointed boxing commission and is eligible to fight in Dayton again.

Every promoting organization in Dayton was bidding for Garcia's services for a return match with Mike Dundee, but the commission has ruled that Garcia must fight for the Dayton Athletic Club before he can consider offers of other Dayton clubs.

Bowling

Despite the fact it presented a crippled lineup and used two "dummy" scores, the champion Greene County Lumber Co. succeeded in winning two out of three games from the Bucks Thursday night, thereby extending its lead in the Recreation Bowling League to nine full games. Peterson and Brelke sparkled for the winners, the former rolling a three-game total of 651 and the latter a series of 609. A. Regan led the losers with 550. Box score:

CEDARVILLE WILL PLAY RIO GRANDE

Cedarville College's basketball team is hoping for its fourth victory of the season in the return game to be played with Rio Grande at Alford gymnasium at Cedarville Friday night.

Cedarville's hope, however, is merely that and nothing more as Rio Grande gets the call over the "Yellow Jackets" on the basis of a 30 to 17 victory registered over Cedarville's quintet earlier in the season.

Xenia versus Stivers.

Xenia Central High School's "Buccaneers" will face Stivers High School of Dayton, 1927-28 state basketball champions and possessing again this season a team declared to be stronger than last year's edition, at the Montgomery County Fairground Coliseum in Dayton Tuesday night, February 26.

Negotiations for the contest were completed Thursday afternoon by Coach Walter L. "Pinky" Wilson, Central mentor, with Robert W. Worst, Stivers faculty manager.

It was first thought that the game might be booked Saturday afternoon, February 16 but Stivers has scheduled a game with the Continentals of Washington, Ind., for that date.

The Stivers game will be played the week of the regional state tournament and regardless of its outcome the Bucs will probably have another chance to meet the Dayton quintet again at Springfield.

The Bucs will have everything to gain and nothing to lose against Stivers. It is too much to say that Xenia will defeat Stivers, but it is not too much to say that the Bucs in their best playing form, will give Stivers a run for its money.

Stivers has won fifteen straight games this season without being defeated or without coming close to being defeated and is laying claim once more to state-wide superiority. Perhaps the contention is justified but Xenia should not be underrated.

Local fans will recall that the Stivers team which won the state championship last season was given a hard battle by Xenia in the semi-finals of the regional tourney at Dayton than any team it faced on the road to the title.

Stivers won the game 32 to 25 but only by successfully "stalling" during the entire fourth quarter as it was able to protect what was apparently a safe lead.

The 1928-29 Stivers cage team is declared to be better than last year but Xenia's quintet this season cannot be rated as inferior to the Buccaneers' scoring machine. It is perhaps superior but by no means impossible.

Lively, who was the individual high scorer among Dayton high school teams last season, was held to a lone field goal by Gibney last year, while Culbom only scored five points and Hosket contributed eight.

In any event, win or lose, it is the chance of a life-time for the Buccaneers to make a name for themselves. No other team has been able to come within fifteen points of beating Stivers this season.

Will the Bucs do it?

CLAIMED BY DEATH THURSDAY EVENING

Howard Breakfield, 41, well known farmer of Ross Twp., died Thursday evening at 6:30 at his home near Grape Grove. He had been in ill health about a year.

Mr. Breakfield was the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Breakfield of Bowersville and was born near Octa in Fayette County. He is survived by his widow, three children: Vernon of Springfield; Louise and Wendell at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Breakfield, Bowersville; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Phillips, near Washington C. H., and Mrs. Elza Sheritt, near Jeffersonville and a brother, Ado, near Bowersville.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ, Grape Grove. Burial in Grape Grove Cemetery.

ROSS DIVIDES TWIN BILL THURSDAY AT CEDARVILLE HIGH

In the presence of nearly 900 fans, estimated to be the largest crowd that ever witnessed a high school basketball game in Cedarville, Ross Twp. and Cedarville High School boys' and girls' basketball teams divided a double-header at Alford memorial gymnasium Thursday night.

Ross boys defeated Cedarville for the second time this season by a margin of 26 to 19. Cedarville played without the services of Baker, regular forward, who sustained a broken right arm while cranking an auto a week ago, but the Ross quintet was clearly superior, as in the preceding game which it won by a score of 29 to 26.

Swain, Ross center, was high-point man of the contest, registering ten points, followed by Jenkins with nine. Bates led the Cedarville scoring with eight markers, while Abel scored seven.

Cedarville girls outclassed the Ross sextet in the preliminary game, winning 27 to 10. A previous game between these two teams ended in a 4 to 4 tie. There was not much doubt in existence, however, that the game organization is merged with what was formerly known as the Greene County Coon and Fox Hunters Association and a membership drive will be launched at the coming banquet meeting.

The merged organization at present has a membership of 225 sportsmen. It is hoped to renew all memberships and add as many new members as possible.

CEDARVILLE WILL PLAY RIO GRANDE

Cedarville College's basketball team is hoping for its fourth victory of the season in the return game to be played with Rio Grande at Alford gymnasium at Cedarville Friday night.

Cedarville's hope, however, is merely that and nothing more as Rio Grande gets the call over the "Yellow Jackets" on the basis of a 30 to 17 victory registered over Coach Bors' quintet earlier in the season.

The game will be played the week of the regional tournament, which starts the following Friday at Springfield, and it is extremely likely the Buccaneers and Stivers will meet again the same week at Springfield.

Stivers, with an impressive record of fifteen straight victories, has little to gain by defeating Xenia, while the Bucs have nothing to lose, but anything can happen in basketball and Xenia may spring a surprise against this team which has averaged better than fifty points per game.

Indirect credit for arranging the game may be given Glenn McFadden, one of Xenia's most enthusiastic Buccaneer fans. "Micky" wrote to a Dayton newspaper that Stivers would not have to look further than sixteen miles away from Dayton to find its superior in basketball. A Dayton sport scribe showed the article to Stivers' faculty manager and the faculty manager immediately opened negotiations with Coach "Pinky" Wilson. The date was definitely decided upon Thursday afternoon. Everything has been arranged except the officials for the contest. Coach Wilson has put his O. K. on a list of referees from which the official will be selected.

Basketball in the Buckeye Conference affords some of the most hard-fought competition to be found in an inter-collegiate league. Of the first sixteen games played by Buckeye teams this season, seven were decided by a margin of not more than two points.

Cincinnati lost to Wesleyan by two points and won from Ohio and Denison by the same margin. Wittenberg has lost to Denison once by two points and once by a single tally. The Luthers in turn defeated Ohio Wesleyan by two points. The Battling Bishops nosed out Miami by one point at Oxford.

Wittenberg is the overtime champion of the conference this year. Only three games have gone into an overtime session and the Luthers have been in the thick of each of them. Wittenberg defeated Chaminati and Ohio Wesleyan in extra-period contests and is eligible to fight in Denison in a similar struggle.

Local fans will recall that the Stivers team which won the state championship last season was given a hard battle by Xenia in the semi-finals of the regional tourney at Dayton than any team it faced on the road to the title.

Stivers won the game 32 to 25 but only by successfully "stalling" during the entire fourth quarter as it was able to protect what was apparently a safe lead.

HEADS FISH AND GAME BODY

L. F. CLEVENGER

L. F. Clevenger was elected president of the Greene County Fish and Game Protective Association for the coming year, succeeding Charles Taylor, at the annual meeting of the organization in the assembly room of the Court House Thursday night.

Other officers chosen for 1929 are: Roseve Turner, Jamestown, vice-president; Harry Richards, Xenia, secretary, and T. D. Kyle, Xenia, treasurer.

The retiring president appointed a committee to decide upon a location for the annual banquet of the association which will be held within the next month.

The fish and game organization is merged with what was formerly known as the Greene County Coon and Fox Hunters Association and a membership drive will be launched at the coming banquet meeting.

The merged organization at present has a membership of 225 sportsmen. It is hoped to renew all memberships and add as many new members as possible.

BOOK REVIEW

"Tested Programs for Special Days," by Clausen, Revell and Co., consists of high-class, suggestive materials for the special days of the Methodist Episcopal Church, according to the report of Dr. John Edwards, secretary of the board of foreign missions.

The recent issue of Who's Who in America shows that of 22,000 who gained prominence, 14,000 are college or university graduates, while 3000 more attended some institution of higher learning but did not graduate.

A movement is in progress among the members of the Universal church in the United States to endow the birthplace of Clara Barton, organizer of the American Red Cross. The fund sought is $50,000. Miss Barton was born in North Oxford, Mass., in 1830.

The National Christian Council of churches in China recently received favorable recommendation that a limited number of selected visitors from abroad should be invited to China for periods of from six months to two years to render special service, helping to analyze problems, do research work and secure such information regarding experiences in other countries as would be of inspiration to Christians in China.

Three great American Universities have just announced appointment of full time officers as head of the religious work of these institutions. Dr. Robert Russell Wicks has been made Dean of Religion at Princeton, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey is the new Dean of the University Chapel at the University of Chicago, and the Rev. Elmore McNeil McKeel will minister to the religious life of the students at Yale University.

"The teacher of each class has been urged to make contact with each home; a special letter from the pastor to each home pleads for co-operation in making triumphant Christian lives possible for these boys and girls. Classes have vied with each other for complete parents' attendance at the morning service. An honor roll announces all the classes which had every parent present.

"At this church service, these parents are introduced to the vital crises of Decision Day in their children's lives and they are warned to nurture carefully the new decisions.

"Then at the noon departmental Sunday School sessions, when children are seated with their teachers in regular class groups, the pastor or his assistant visits every department, briefly indicating the wave of interest in church membership which is sweeping the Sunday School today, and expressing an invitation to the children to join their allegiance to Jesus by joining the church.

"The completion of the transaction is left with the teacher where it belongs. But these teachers have been carefully taught in advance the importance and methods of helping to a right decision.

"All reporting Christian decisions are requested to attend training classes which meet during the succeeding weeks after school; they are taught the history of the church, the demands of Jesus, the way to be a Christian, how to pray and triumph over temptation."

D. Carl Yoder

Three great American Universities have just announced appointment of full time officers as head of the religious work of these institutions. Dr. Robert Russell Wicks has been made Dean of Religion at Princeton, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey is the new Dean of the University Chapel at the University of Chicago, and the Rev. Elmore McNeil McKeel will minister to the religious life of the students at Yale University.

Lincoln's Code of Living

Lincoln's code of living contained the following rules: "Do not worry; eat three square meals a day; say your prayers, be courteous; keep your digestion good; exercise; do not hurry—maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy, but, my friend, these, Ireckon, will give you a good lift."

Lincoln doubtless followed these rules very closely. We know that he prayed regularly. He himself said, "I have always taken counsel of the Almighty and referred to him my plans, and have never adopted a course without being assured of his approbation."

He confessed that in all the great White House emergencies he had prayed.

LESSON PRAYER
"O Lord, we know not how to pray as we ought; do thou teach us the way of prayer; help us to practice a prayer life; may our commandment be there be our great desire; may praise and adoration be constantly springing from the depths of our soul."

BOOK REVIEW

Prayer is a universal instinct; it is a simple exercise in which the humblest soul can engage, and yet it is a high art, calling for the best teaching and example, study and effort.

V. 5. "And when ye pray, ye shall not be as hypocrites." One danger is that of turning prayer into a mere performance for the praise of men—an eloquent prayer.

V. 6. "But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy inner chamber, and having shut the door, pray to the Father who art in secret." One can well publicly pray only when he has prayed well in a secret place, when his heart bounds up to God in praise and thanksgiving.

V. 7. "And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do; for they think they shall be heard for their much speaking." A second danger of prayer is found in vain repetitions—a falling into ruts in our prayers so that they become purely mechanical.

V. 8. "Your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before you ask him. God's power to give is limited by right desires; true prayers develop right desires.

V. 9. "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name." The word Father suggests what God is—a sovereign with power, wisdom, mercy and love; the word also suggests that all are brothers.

The word "hallowed" suggests that reverence is the root of all worth and virtue.

V. 10. "Thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is done in heaven." Unless there is a kingdom over us with its protection, there can be nothing of value elsewhere. Our will is about the most dangerous thing we possess and as it is controlled are we safe; safe keeping is in "Thy will be done."

V. 11. "Give us this day our daily bread." All material conditions of life, bread, health and prosperity are rightly subjects of prayers as a means to the end—spiritual welfare. It is a right that we have bread if we mean to serve God.

V. 12. "And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors." That forgiveness may be realized in us, we must have a certain quality of atmosphere in our lives to receive it. That atmosphere is a forgiving spirit.

V. 13. "And bring us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil." Our desire should be that of being held back from going to dangerous places, associating with evil minded people; if we are to be tested then let it be under the direction of God.

Discussion on Questions S.S. Lesson

By Carl Yoder

1. Why did Jesus pray? Why should we pray?

2. What is the purpose of prayer?

3. In what sense is a true prayer always answered?

4. Why do we fail to pray regularly and most often when in emergencies?

5. How may the sincerity of a public prayer be tested?

6. How hallow God's name?

7. How can our prayers be made more effectual and blessed?

Cleopas says, "In God's sight a man's prayers are not the utterances of his lips, but the active endeavor of his will. The requests of his mouth matter little, the bent of his life counts for everything. These actual prayers manifestly go on continually."

A budget of $3,459,000 has been drafted for foreign missions for the coming year by the Methodist Episcopal Church, according to the report of Dr. John Edwards, secretary of the board of foreign missions.

The recent issue of Who's Who in America shows that of 22,000 who gained prominence, 14,000 are college or university graduates, while 3000 more attended some institution of higher learning but did not graduate.

A movement is in progress among the members of the Universal church in the United States to endow the birthplace of Clara Barton, organizer of the American Red Cross. The fund sought is $50,000. Miss Barton was born in North Oxford, Mass., in 1830.

The National Christian Council of churches in China recently received favorably a recommendation that a limited number of selected visitors from abroad should be invited to China for periods of from six months to two years to render specialized service, helping to analyze problems, to research work and secure such information regarding experiences in other countries as would be of inspiration to Christians in China.

The teacher of each class has been urged to make contact with each home; a special letter from the pastor to each home pleads for co-operation in making triumphant Christian lives possible for these boys and girls. Classes have vied with each other for complete parents' attendance at the morning service. An honor roll announces all the classes which had every parent present.

At this church service, these parents are introduced to the vital crises of Decision Day in their children's lives and they are warned to nurture carefully the new decisions.

"Then at the noon departmental Sunday School sessions, when children are seated with their teachers in regular class groups, the pastor or his assistant visits every family, briefly indicating the wave of interest in church membership which is sweeping the Sunday School today, and expressing an invitation to the children to speak their allegiance to Jesus by joining the church.

The completion of the transaction is left with the teacher where it belongs. But these teachers have been carefully taught in advance the importance and methods of helping to a right decision.

All reporting Christian decisions are requested to attend training classes which meet during the succeeding weeks after school; they are taught the history of the church, the demands of Jesus, the way to be a Christian, how to pray and triumph over temptation.

Betty Brown went in for mental and concludes to take up dancing.

Driving home from a country club where her friend Lois had danced, she is kissed by a casual boy acquaintance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

In spite of Mrs. Brown's statement that Betty could save money on her summer clothes by going to Selkirk's Summer School of Expression in a camp near the city, she bought Betty two nice sports suits. One had a white-pleated skirt and a white blouse with a geometrical design worked in green; the other was a plain white linen dress with a gay flowered jacket. These were to be worn with new white slippers at the Saturday night dances. Lois had told Betty the girls never wore evening frocks at the dances.

Betty bought ballet slippers with box toes, shoes with metal tips for tap, and a pair of dooskin sandals for the other forms of dancing.
Lois went with her to a shop which specialized in these and also helped her to select the one-piece bathing suits which she would use for both dancing and swimming.

All these cost quite a bit of money, but her father told her to get whatever she needed. She was elected over the outfit she packed in her bag. But greater than her delight in her clothes was the thrill of a professional makeup box she bought under Lois' direction. The mirror lid, the many grease paints, powders, rouges and lining pencils so fascinated her that she sat on the floor of her room to experiment with them.

She recalled that the girls at the theater had blue on their eyelids.
She tried this, but the effect was weird. Leaving this, she began to experiment with some of the other pencils, deepening the lines from the edge of her nose and between her eyebrows in an attempt to make herself look like an old woman playing a character part.

Engrossed in what she was doing, she did not hear her mother enter her room.

"Go wash your face!" Her mother's stern command came from the open door.

"Mother, I was just playing!" defended Betty.

"I know what you are doing! You are painting yourself up like one of those brazen women of the stage, that's what you are doing! I don't like it. I know no good would come of this dancing! You are stage struck already!"

"Lois says that when you dance in public you have to make up your face. That's what the things Self-kirk teaches."

"Lois says!" her mother immediately retorted. "I have heard nothing for a week except what Lois says! Seem to me you might listen occasionally to what the only mother you have in the world says.

Your father has a hard enough time with the chain stores underselling him without spending all this money on nonsense. No good will come of it, I tell you!"

"Why mother, I am not doing anything wrong. I have no thought of going on the stage. I just want

"MONEY COULDN'T
BUY THE HEALTH
KONJOLA GAVE ME"

After Years Of Suffering From Stomach And Kidney Troubles, Happy Lady Says She Was Relieved Of Ailments.

"What a joy it is to recommend this wonderful Konjola, and money couldn't buy the health it gave me after I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles," said Mrs. Susan Jones, Dennison, Ohio, a short distance from Coshocton.

"Each meal was a source of suffering to me. Gas pains were almost unendurable. It was with difficulty that I could get my breath. Frequent night risings and dull pains across my back were the results of kidney trouble. For years these ailments had been just as much a part of my life as breathing. I was deeply discouraged, for nothing helped me in the slightest.

"The results I obtained through Konjola exceeded my fondest imagination. Immediately I began to feel better. The indigestion pains and gas bloating began to fade away and then my stomach was put in wonderful condition. Now I eat anything I care for. Konjola then strengthened my kidneys and banished night rising and back pains. Do you wonder that I am full of praise for this medicine?"

"Konjola is different from any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product, until now, Konjola is the most highly endorsed medicine that has been made in this country."

Konjola is sold in Xenia at the Gallaher Drug Store, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

House Of Cards - - - By Laird

She is building a house of cards, and hesitates to place the winner of her ace of hearts—on top of the pile.

Well she may, for a dwelling built of such flimsy stuff will go over with the first contrary zephyr.

Many a young couple does rely on just such material for their little happiness, however. They have altogether false ideas as to what life is all about.

Spades are built in only when they represent other people's work. Clubs when Jack and Jill want their own way and bludgeon others to get it. Diamonds are placed here and there where they will glitter the most, regardless of whether they are real gems or merely paste. Hearts—other hearts—are ruthlessly sacrificed in the building, crushed into the superstructure with no thought of the feelings of the owners.

And then Jack and Jill, their house complete, expect to be happy and contented in it, and they cry out against Fate when it falls at the first contrary wind, crushing them in the wreck.

Spades are built in only when they represent other people's work. Clubs when Jack and Jill want their own way and bludgeon others to get it. Diamonds are placed here and there where they will glitter the most, regardless of whether they are real gems or merely paste. Hearts—other hearts—are ruthlessly sacrificed in the building, crushed into the superstructure with no thought of the feelings of the owners.

And then Jack and Jill, their house complete, expect to be happy and contented in it, and they cry out against Fate when it falls at the first contrary wind, crushing them in the wreck.

"MONEY COULDN'T BUY THE HEALTH KONJOLA GAVE ME"

After Years Of Suffering From Stomach And Kidney Troubles, Happy Lady Says She Was Relieved Of Ailments.

"What a joy it is to recommend this wonderful Konjola, and money couldn't buy the health it gave me after I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles," said Mrs. Susan Jones, Dennison, Ohio, a short distance from Coshocton.

"Each meal was a source of suffering to me. Gas pains were almost unendurable. It was with difficulty that I could get my breath. Frequent night risings and dull pains across my back were the results of kidney trouble. For years these ailments had been just as much a part of my life as breathing. I was deeply discouraged, for nothing helped me in the slightest.

"The results I obtained through Konjola exceeded my fondest imagination. Immediately I began to feel better. The indigestion pains and gas bloating began to fade away and then my stomach was put in wonderful condition. Now I eat anything I care for. Konjola then strengthened my kidneys and banished night rising and back pains. Do you wonder that I am full of praise for this medicine?"

"Konjola is different from any other known remedy in this section. It contains 22 juices extracted from natural plants, which invigorate the stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels to a more healthy action. The effect of Konjola on the entire system brings amazing relief in cases of suffering that has been going on for years. At the same time, many weak and rundown systems have been restored to a new state of health through this compound. Such a vast number of men and women in this city have told of their experience with this new medical product, until now, Konjola is the most highly endorsed medicine that is known in this vicinity.

Konjola is sold in Xenia at the Galaher Drug Store, and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.

Well she may, for a dwelling built of such flimsy stuff will go over with the first contrary zephyr.

Many a young couple does rely on just such material for their life's happiness, however. They have altogether false ideas as to what makes for real joy.

The Romance that ended so soon

Her version: What a disappointment Bob had been! Once he was always bright and cheery—well-groomed. Then something happened. Bob became careless. Seemed to lose his ambition. Even his appearance was affected. Why, she was actually ashamed of him now!

His version: What had come over Mary? Two years ago he had been so much in love with her. But these days she was always so cross. Her old-time youth and charm had fled. True, he'd slipped somewhat, himself. But, Mary . . .

What a tragedy that constipation can wreck so much happiness! It begins with such little things—headaches, listlessness. But it eventually saps the strongest body, and may lead to serious disease. And all the while it could be so easily prevented—so surely relieved. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—to safely prevent it.

ALL-BRAN is effective and natural. Bulk or roughage relieves constipation in a natural way. ALL-BRAN furnishes bulk in generous quantity because it is 100% bran. It carries moisture through the intestines, gently sweeping out poisons. Part-bran products seldom contain sufficient bulk to be completely effective. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN because it is 100% bran—100% effective.

Don't risk drugs!

ALL-BRAN brings lasting relief. Far better than habit-forming pills whose dose must be constantly increased. ALL-BRAN is an appetizing cereal—delicious with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Mix it with other cereals. Sprinkle into soups. Use it in cooking. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It will protect the health of your family.

All grocers sell Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Served at hotels, restaurants, on diners. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Guaranteed!
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold with this definite guarantee: Eat it according to directions. If it does not relieve constipation safely, we will refund the purchase price.
